

Scholarships and funding

Have you ever wondered what a UK education can do for you? Alongside a world-class qualification, studying in the UK will give you the opportunity to experience a new culture, network with students and professionals from all over the world, and gain skills to help further your career development. There are various financial support options available to help fund your studies in the UK.

Course fees

Fees for UK courses vary depending on your study level and where in the UK you are studying (as there are different rules for England, Scotland, Northern Ireland and Wales). International students can expect to pay between £10,000 and £26,000 annually, and typically an undergraduate degree course will last for three years. Medical degrees may cost more and many UK master's degrees can be completed in one year, meaning lower living costs and faster entry into employment.

Always be sure to check the cost of course fees with the university or college you are applying to. Most often, this information will be listed on their website. As a student from the EU, your fees will depend on when you arrive in the UK and which university you apply to. Check with your chosen university, as universities can set their own fees for EU students.

Scholarships and financial support

The UK government offers hundreds of scholarships, bursaries and additional financial support to students from several countries. You can visit the UKCISA (UK Council for International Student Affairs) website to find out if you are eligible for a scholarship. Many institutions also offer their own financial assistance, and you can check their websites for more information.

Funding opportunities for Dutch students

	INFORMATION ABOUT FINANCIAL SUPPORT	USEFUL LINKS
Dutch study financing	Almost all Dutch students are entitled to 'studiefinanciering' under certain conditions. Currently, this mainly consists of a loan at favourable terms. Students who go abroad to study at accredited institutions can, under certain conditions, take this studiefinanciering with them or keep it going during their time abroad. For the UK, the institution where the student will study has to be a Recognised Body. In addition, the programme must in any case be comparable to a completed Dutch higher education programme. For example: Bachelor's degree, Master's degree, Higher National Diploma (HND) - under certain conditions.	DUO (information in Dutch)

Erasmus+	The UK has been given a different status in the Erasmus+ 2021- 2027 programme. There remain limited opportunities to study at a UK educational institution or do a work placement in the UK with an Erasmus+ scholarship. The UK is a partner country in the new Erasmus+ programme, allowing for exchanges under certain conditions.
